Look Forward

Presently our planning is based upon the following expected events, however this is subject to change.

Sunday 18th (Day +9)

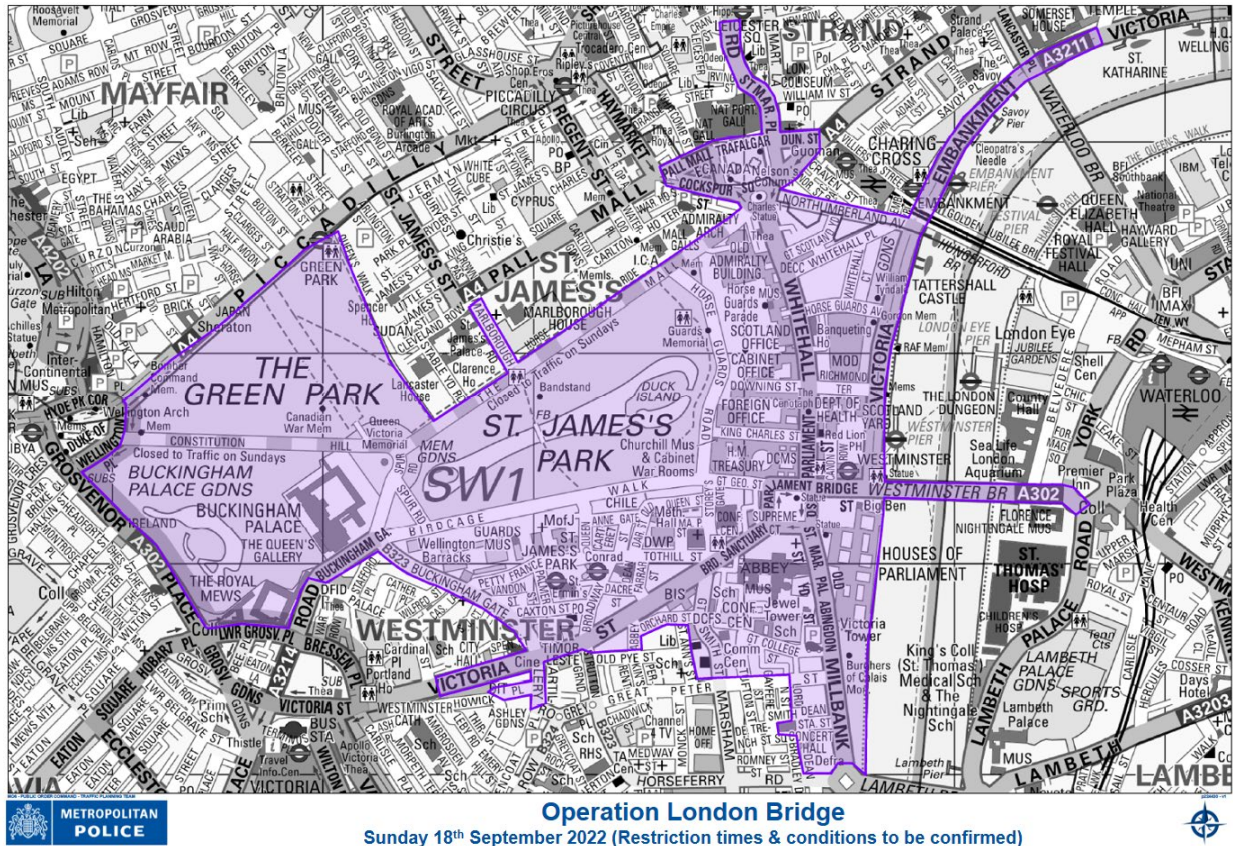

Her Majesty will lie in state in Westminster Hall and we expect vehicular road closures to expand.

It is likely further vehicular road closures will begin from mid-morning in Victoria, Whitehall and the Mall in preparation for the State Funeral on Monday.

Foreign Heads of State and dignitaries will arrive in London and we expect spontaneous restrictions of vehicular and some pedestrian traffic.

Please see Map B below of affected roads. We presently cannot confirm the times and whether the closures will be restricted or total exclusions. We hope to have that detail later this evening and have shared the maps now, to provide as much notice as possible.

Details of the timings and conditions (restricted access or all access prohibited) will be shared in due course.

Monday 19th (Day +10)

The State Funeral will take place in Westminster Abbey followed by a cortege to Windsor Castle travelling via Wellington Arch. There will be considerable total vehicular road closures throughout central London coupled with more limited vehicular closures in West London.

Please see the Map C below of affected roads, again we presently cannot confirm the times and whether the closures will be restricted or total exclusions and will share as soon as it becomes available.

We will also provide the cortege route from Westminster to Windsor once we are in a position to do so.

Operation London Bridge

Monday 19th September 2022 (Restriction times & conditions to be confirmed)

Details of the timings and conditions (restricted access or all access prohibited) will be shared in due course.

Pedestrian Access

There are currently no anticipated restrictions on pedestrian access. However, it may be necessary to implement spontaneous restrictions on pedestrian access for safety or security reasons.

We do expect there to be spontaneous pedestrian restrictions implemented in Parliament Square, Whitehall and the Mall on Monday 19th September. These will be total exclusions due to crowd numbers.
